The Valley of Butterflies is a natural park on the island of Rhodes.

As you probably guess the place is full of colourful insects. The valley lies in Petaloudes, about 28 kilometres from the capital city of Rhodes. When you visit the valley, you can stroll under the shade of pine trees, admire butterflies and see the river Pelekanos. Thousands of butterflies can be seen from June to September. However, during the visit you have to obey some basic rules. You mustn't whistle, clap hands, pick flowers or trample small plants. You should not make any noise. If you like buying souvenirs, there are some small shops where you can buy artificial insects, postcards or other things.
