Mount Fuji is the highest mountain in Japan. It lies about 100 kilometres from Tokyo, the capital city of the country.

You can climb the mountain in July and August. During these two months the weather conditions are quite good as the mountain is usually free of snow and there is only a mild wind.

There are a lot of people who hike up the mountain. When they are tired they can have a rest and admire the landscape. There are some people who want to go home with a small souvenir from Japan. It's possible to buy almost everything with pictures of Mount Fuji on it. You can buy mugs, postcards, posters or even T-shirts.
